

Activity: “The sixth meeting”

Addresses: Teamwork; Leadership; Communication; Conflict Resolution; Intercultural Competence; Project Development & Management; Social Entrepreneurship

Aims/Intended Learning Outcomes: Continue to engage the students in the portfolio, letting them getting to know the definitions of the different competences on a theoretical level. Inform them about the activities in Brussels and what that should be done beforehand.

Time required: 2 hours

Group size: Five students and two trainers

Context/setting: Meeting Room at Uppsala University Administration

Description:

We continued where we left off last time, moving through the definitions of the definitions. We also instructed the students of the video and the parliament interview. When we were finished with the definitions the students themselves continued to plan the video.

Materials needed: Meeting room, table, chairs, computer, and the portfolio.

Behind the activity/inspired by: The portfolio. We, the trainers, had read it and had an understanding of the definitions, and we thought it would be fruitful to share them with the students.
